

The spore of sin
April 22, 2008
Joel Akin

1John 3:9 Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

To those who continually preach listen, God is not a mocking Spirit. He is God! In all the known way of life we who are in the church are the only ones who continually put sin on us again and again. We take it by way of life and by way of our belief that God is not with us. We go out and find those who have turned aside from the faith and tell them 'You are sin'. The problem is that once God has freed them they are clean of it.

Now you point out "For all time" and that becomes the measure of it in and about. For if the heart of man is wicked then why does God ask us to accept Jesus? The answer is because someone has to enter into the heart. That heart is the cord of life. It is the box and the shadow of life in it isn't of men but of sin.

Sin is the prosperous one. He is the one who boxes with us to make us a fool. He goes to the sea and goes to the grave. He goes down to the well and down to the way. He goes down to the plea of life and then throws out all that he has done. He then goes to the men in the grave and throws them up a cookie. The cookie is made of time and it is old but people in hell eat whatever they can. They are those who were in the grave. The grave is those who were in life. The connection is the sea and the sea washes those who were on land down to the deep. It happens all over, what we will say is, the way of men in the deep of the sea. There they are in the deep without any way to speak. Sin is the one who gives them a will to speak. They take it up to the people on earth. We then take sin into us.

This is the way of it and the way of life in the sea. We become part of the ever and forever curse. One which is made up of seaweed and barnacles. It is the claw of the captain who is the curse for it is the c law or the law of the creature.

Yet out of the curse Jesus rose up with the life of those who wanted out. He broke them upon the shore and said "Who here wants it." Those who did fell into a slumber. They were carried up to heaven and given to the one man who could fix what ailed them. That was the Father. He is the one who spends night and day restoring the people who were. He builds them body after body. It is the body of men and the body of women. He does this for the person who is there and for the men who are to come to take these to the people they arose from.

The fact is that alone is time and God spent more time on it than anyone knew. He went down to the sea and down to the people and down to the lee of the world. He went there as the one we call Son only he went in Spirit. Thus God was with His Son in the grave. He went down with him in the heart which is the cord and then left him there in the grave. It was this which was meant to persuade the men of his time that Jesus was God. For he rose up with triumph.