

The Sun goes dark

August 30, 1998

Prophetic Dreams

Joel Akin

There was a great blackness that covered much of the sun. Around it were dancing miniature suns. People began to scream and panic and a great creature came out of the earth and began running among the people bringing death and destruction.