Time comes to a close and we who remain on earth are about to meet our fate. If we look towards the heavens we find that time is about to finish and we need not worry about the Millennia of time that is coming for it will finish all things and all things will end as we know them. For time is the enemy and the enemy of God is the men who would triumph over Him. For time is the basis of hope and hope is the end of life and life then must begin with something we call joy. Joy is the freedom we have in our hearts and from freedom we will begin a new life based on the freedom of life and its fulness. These things are not the final solution but the end solution. For time as we know it must end for all things to be finished and all things will be destroyed and only knowledge of the spiritual side will be returned to us. For those things that hold us captive are the dark thoughts which is the dark soul of the heart. This is the key spirit which is the least known of all of the dark spirits.

It is a spirit that is bound on one side by hate and on the other by malice. It is chosen by anger and from anger it grows into turn key or turn key into a raging foul spirit. Turn key represents a traitorous spirit of life that fell in the beginning and the beginning was in the Garden of Eden. There was a war over the tree of knowledge of Good and Evil and it fell to Satan who controlled the tree. The tree is represented by the last post or the final post of Satan for God destroyed the universe and all that it held. What we see in the sky is the few galaxies and stars that remain. At one time the Universe expanded further then scientists can see. It is a huge universe that had no end and was as far from earth as earth is from the edge of time which is further then life is from the edge of the sea of forgetfulness.

Time had a beginning but it was the beginning of freedom. Freedom is the key to the beginning of life and we who are on earth are about to experience it for the first time in history. We look to men to find us and yet men cannot see us. We are the men of the ages. By that I speak only of men who love God and found Him as the center of their lives. Some men are born simple which means they cannot see God nor can they recognize the signs of the time. But time is the first example of the signs but not the only one. There are other signs that speak of patterns and one is the key to life. When we see the signs approaching then we know that life must cease. Some signs include the terminator seed. Though it is quiescent yet it is also quietly at work in earth and was here before any company created it. This is called the terminator seed of creation which was destroyed when man fell. His seed was affected as was all of creation. These patterns are at work in the world but there are a few that are beginning to break down. Take for example China where strawberries are taking on huge dimensions and sizes of all shapes. I spoke with my parents about these berries and I believe prayer is beginning to move on the earth. We know there are many in China who are praying to be freed of tyranny but they are under repression. The berries are spiritually significant of what we see happening in warfare of the spirit. Those who are under repression remain small and simple but when God begins to break forth then the spiritual codes which were held in bondage begin to be removed from the strawberry code. This means we are in bondage like the berry and like the berry if prayer is strong enough that which is spiritual begins to remove all those hindrances which keep us from moving up and out.

Now if I can compare myself to a strawberry which is outgrowing old standards then this means prayer can and will help me to grow in other areas. If these areas are removed then the spiritual codes become unlocked and we begin moving, like spies, into the promised land. Perhaps a concept here or a move here. The end result is a war where we have to seek out the fortresses and walls and trust God to help us overcome those who would hinder us in our move. How? By prayer. It is fought first in the spiritual but we know that the natural realm is just as important. So how do we deal with the natural realm if we fight tooth and nail in prayer? The answer is by more prayer for God desires to overcome the natural with prayer as well. It's not His desire that we have to resort to natural fighting if we as a nation are in prayer. In other words the supernatural means of overcoming are there for us with eyes to see against any and all foes.

So should we be sad when we see the enemy all around us? When our faith conflicts with their 'faith' and our teaching with theirs? How do we fight when we have welcomed them to our homes and yet their faith conflicts with ours? The answer is by prayer. Prayer is the only answer that satisfies the criteria of faith. But do we ever need to fight in the natural? The answer is yes but only after we have prayed and fought in the spiritual can the natural side begin to be revealed. That war begins with a countdown called the dissolution of the Universe as we know it. Scripture teaches us this in Peter's book and it is from Peter that we know the Bible is brought to a point of truth. For Jesus said Peter shall become the rock from which the church should be built. This meant his teaching on the Universe was the safety zone for the new teaching that would rise in the last days. So if Peter is the rock of safety then we who are in Christ are the men and women who have found that cornerstone from which Peter was placed. For time is the key to what we become. And if we become complacent then we become lax in our battle for this fight is to the wise and not to those who are bound in fear or anger. It is not you who are fault if you are in Christ but we who fight from heaven who have delayed that all things might work together for good.

So if we who are in heaven have delayed past the 2000 year mark it is because there is a war first in the spiritual which was fought and that is being fought now and will conclude in 2007 but the main war in the natural will begin in that year. So the real solution to this story is that we are in war now in heaven and that is the first 3.5 years the scripture speaks of. 3.5 years then is added to the last half of the natural leaving a gap in the middle to account for a spiritual dimension we call faith, hope and love or the years when the battle is fought between heaven and earth. This is why the struggle is so hard for those who fight it. Now do we turn away from you on earth during this time? No, but the spiritual warfare is hard for those who fight for it is a time of spiritual pain and physical pain beyond human comprehension. If you are in pain and in prayer and believe you are part of this battle then you probably are. If you look to men to proclaim this they will find time to read it and laugh but their spiritual side will see the truth. Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not to your own understanding. For the Lord is God and not he who would proclaim nonsense. For the truth of this word shall be proclaimed to all the world from the beginning to the end that time shall be no more. And time shall come to an end and time shall bring forth peace and peace shall be the new time of man. For time shall be a term of endearment and of hope and all men shall see it brought forth from the end to the beginning.

For in the time of men we fought with each other and fought over things that had little value. We made things and found things and turned those things into gods which fell from the sky like meteorites of little value. Now look to the heavens for there shall be signs beyond understanding. Scientists shall cover up some of these but they will not know that time shall exist as a flame and from the flame shall grow a fire that shall eat time from its end and beginning and meet in the middle to devour. And that devour is like Satan who seeks to devour this word for he seeks to steal it and toss it into the sea of forgetfulness. But hang on to it for it shall be a treasure to you in your latter days. And remember there is more hope and joy coming to you as you seek Him who is, was and will be forever and ever. Amen.

2000-Spiritual War begins-

3.5 years mentioned in Revelation. Represents the years 2000-2003

2004-2007 Spiritual war continues but forces of evil begin to submit during this tenure as the battle is prepared for the natural.

2007-The Natural War begins with a simple solution. Time is changed and there is a war over the question of Freedom in spiritual dimensions. This war lasts for 7 years and ends with an actual demonstration of Gods power and agenda upon the earth finishing all things by 2014
