

If people were to see the Lord
October 18, 2008
Joel Akin

Exodus 3:4 And when the LORD saw that he turned aside to see, God called unto him out of the midst of the bush, and said, Moses, Moses. And he said, Here [am] I.

Now this isn't about what we call Moses in the bush but God. God was in the bush and that means camping out. Of course in our day growing up if you went into the bush you had a couple reasons. One was to find the true call of man and the other the call was answering you or seeing you without anything on.

Of course being in the bush meant to be without clothing and this isn't the type of bush we are speaking of.

God isn't going to worry over how he appears but suppose God did take of the apple and eat of it. Who would know? The Bible says 'The day you eat of the apple" and so if God lived then he would live a thousand of your years. However if the day for God was a thousand times that he might eat of the tree and live forever. However he would grow old and that would be a proper way of saying God ate of the bush in the fruit or fruit from the tree and grew into a man and lived in a place in the world we call Somalia.

Of course that is speculation and a very weird story. One in which Moses happened by because of how Egypt was spared when Eden fell to earth. Part of it fell in Turkey and part in the Baltic and part in Somalia and part in the region of the Middle East, as we now call it. However then it wasn't the East Road but the Road of Perdition.

Perdition meant to lose your way and it was because of a road called Aden. Aden now is deep in the sea but people remember. They still call it the road past the door of Eden and Eden wasn't in Iraq then but in the hill and dale of Somalia. Or what Somalia was then and that was sea and sort of life in the bit of a halestorm called life eternal.

Life isn't the same since Eden fell with men. We think it was just a bit of whimpy little people falling in mind, but it was a dark spur of a planet called Mer and Mer isn't lost it is found. How? It is found because I found it last night while searching for an answer as to an odd image on Google Earth. Of course I study images. I have learned God leads with the motor car because if you wanted to take a rhyd or ryde or however it used to be you had to ford and ford meant to come to a road and that was a word we call Michi. Now Michi is Japanese for road and it is also the name of a rock which does not roll much but should. That means they are hard to find on the net but they are there. Michi is road and was part of the word found. It was also part of the story of Ford and Ford is part of my family. My great uncle Fred worked there and met Ford but that was to say the least only part of the story. The rest is that God is part of the story I am finding. He is knowing things and remembering them and helping me find the way to life. Thus when the door to God opens we who are men will find God is He and able to deliver and not some whim we on earth call dog or fish or just a rog in the tip of the tree.