

If the world were to undergo a transformation
October 5, 2008
Joel Akin

Psalms 96:13 Before the LORD: for he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: he shall judge the world with righteousness, and the people with his truth.

I have a desire to see change. We speak of earth changes but in a negative way. If I were to be in charge I would change all things. I would move a mountain and I would move a place of life. I would change for the better and find a perfect way to sleep. I would try to find a way to see and see with clarity.

Now the point of the Lord coming is we have a place we can be which gives us a view of things which are coming. We call it prayer. Prayer is the key to making the story interesting. It is in prayer that I see and in prayer that I hear.

In prayer I understand. In prayer I comprehend. In prayer I become what I am and what I need and what I can or cannot be in Christ. Now if point out that the way to life is filling up with hurt then I become sounding brass because you are hurt. If I say I have ultimate ways of life called reading the way of things in the world I can't yet find a way of proving it to others. It doesn't matter I can write on anything. If a spirit tries to stop me I can bear it up to God in prayer. Thus God carries the bit of a horse and the bit of a phone to the source of the call and that is me. I am the phone because of the word.

Phonetics is the word choice for language. Language is the bit of knowledge which gives me a head start on others. I can go into a story of life called "Taking a day of rest" in which I do nothing but lie there or read or watch TV or just sort. Sorting is when you take your oft ignored treasures and begin to organize them slowly. I have papers I need to sort and a room that needs moving for when they come to wreck it and tear it down. That is sometime in the next week or so but that is a guess.

The point is I saw it as a fall job and a job where I work to make it happen. That isn't an easy job because I am blessed with other things in the story. They tend to block me from enjoying that bath too because it is little and I find it difficult to sit or move around without first moving something. Mostly out there.

Change in the small is like change in the big. It doesn't answer every thing in life but it provides with a new way of life in the thinking. Thus if we see change it is the change of life which is meant to be part of things which are of the things yet to come.

