On Controlling Spirits and Name it to claim it

January 29, 2004

Personal Narrations

Joel Akin

Calgary, Alberta

I did not know what was happening when I tried to pray. For I could not 'see' the truth and I was in confusion for two hours. God showed me that a spirit has been hindering the pastor and it in turn hindered me. This information actually frightened me because it was not one of those things I wanted to know. And even now I feel guilty in even talking about it. But if we don't talk about it and deal with it we will be destroyed.

Following that revelation God also gave me one of the most powerful teachings I've ever had in my life on Ownership. People have been preaching on it for years but not the way God showed me. Pure revelation knowledge. And then last night God again shared with me some more powerful knowledge to help me understand. What is happening is God inspires me with a question from scripture or teachings of people that never made much sense to me.

My only request has been that the answer will be simple, biblical(with lots of examples) and will help me understand where people went wrong. Gods teaching feels complicated at times because he's good at asking me questions to get me thinking. He just doesn't give it to me at first but makes me work for it. I think He knows if he just gave me all the answers without interaction it would not be the same.

Anyway the question last night, which I've had for weeks, even years now, "Is it biblical for Christians to claim the land for Christ."

I may have mentioned the story of the group that traveled to Moscow and another to San Francisco to spend hours rebuking Satan and claiming the cities for God. Or the prophet who said God told Him to go to Mt. Diablo in California and anoint it with oil because 15,000 angels were going to meet them there to take back the mountain.

I told God that it made sense in a spiritual way. But God began to reveal to me principals that I have read but have never fully made sense to me. Or should I say they made sense but not in the way I liked.

God told me that this world presently belongs to Satan. He is the 'god' of this world. He also went on to say that for land to belong to God in this present age we have to kill off all the sinners that step onto it. And in addition we have to make sure that whoever does step on that land we anoint is 100% right with God. Because the second a sinner steps back onto the mountain Satan has his stronghold once again. This is why, God said, he told the Israelites, when they had finally reached the promised land, to drive out all the inhabitants. God wanted it to be a Holy Land free of Satan's power. Most symbolists use the city of Jericho as the reason we can march around the city and claim it as our own. God said the only way we can do that and really claim a city 100% for God is to kill all the inhabitants who have not chosen to belong to God.

God said there are a number of exceptions besides the land of Israel. One was the temple. It was actual holy ground. The priest had to be free of the worlds hold because if he stepped into the Holy of Holies and had anything of this world in his life he was killed. The same goes for the New Testament church. God established His kingdom in the church and all was pure and Holy. Some may debate whether it was a literal kingdom or a symbolic kingdom but God made it clear that He would not allow the world to infiltrate by getting sin out and allowing Annanias and Saphira to die.

God was saying that is why the church has lost its power. They've allowed sin back into the church. And this is why we can't claim land that belongs to Satan as Gods unless we post watchmen around it and allow only those in who are truly holy.

God was sharing with me that other religions such as the strictest Muslims understand this principal. Which is why they do not allow access to their holy places. Only those who are worshipping Muslims are let in. And it also explains why they have been known to hide vast amounts of weapons in the mosques. The better to kill the infidels who might become strong and threaten the sanctity of their mosques. Maybe they know something we don't?

The whole picture we have of taking from Satan is misunderstood. As long as there is any worldly stronghold in our own life we do not even have that authority we brag about in churches to take anything from him.

So I now understand the principal of actually taking the physical land. But what about spiritually? How do we obtain the land for Christ so bars close, prostitutes become saved, adult stores go out of business. Because that is the way we take back land from Satan. By winning others for Christ. God knows we can't kill off anyone who is not a Christian. What would be the purpose? Though God did say this is Satan's plan. To turn the land into His kingdom by killing all of us off. So it is a war that we must fight and God said we must first deal with the spiritual side before we can hope to win the natural side or the hearts of men, women and children. I understand what He means as it is the basic foundation He gave me when I was first learning from Him. First in the Spiritual, then in the Natural.
