Spiritual Deliverance

January 31, 2004

Personal Narrations

Joel Akin

Calgary, Alberta

I have to believe God is having me pray for something. I am struggling with the timing of things. Though God says my particular battle has been won in the spiritual realm(tho there are more to come I understand) I had expected to receive the answers. God instead told me those answers were going to 'work' in the world and the only thing I was waiting for was His perfect time to reveal them in my life. And there is nothing I can do but trust and wait and keep praying.

I think part of the reason is the struggle I'm having with understanding what I see coming over the next 40 days or so. I spent 5 hours Thursday night and 3 hours last night wrestling with God about it. Thats not including the multiple nights praying about it before but more in a general way. The strange thing to me, though perhaps to no one else, is how all these things are meshing so perfectly. God setting me aside at the end of August. Spending 5 months teaching me personally about spiritual warfare and showing me overcoming step by step until I reached understanding and spiritual deliverance.

Bringing me to a state of completion in faith, in prayer, in the beginnings of wisdom. And then just in the past couple of days reminding me of the dreams he's brought over the last 7 years and compelling me to ask Him for understanding so I could understand how all these things fit together.

And what is strange? All the dreams that I felt the touch of God on? Perhaps 20 in all over the last 7 years that deal with this subject? They all mesh and each one has a piece of the puzzle. And they all point to this time in my life.

. I could not think nor pray about anything else. And the inescapable conclusion is my life is being prepared for something and it is about to happen and if the dreams are correct be finished, at least in the first step, by the end of March this year. That is but two months away. Not much time at all. And the days are passing quickly and I keep asking, "Is this you?" One would think after 5 months of prayer I would 'know' by now. Maybe I do! Maybe my spirit is saying "This is the time you've been waiting for." I must move forward. What is strange is that the dreams give the ending and show that it is a happy ending at least for our family. But they show that how we get there is the end of our way of life as we know it. And that is what I struggle with the most.

Please help me pray and I mean seriously. If you know anyone who will aid in this prayer I think it needs to be now. For if the next 40 plus days are 'it' we can expect an event that will devastate, perhaps even be 'war' as we've not seen before for I see a shaking coming. It will lead to a worldwide collapse of the banks and economy. But the one benefit God has shared is it is destined to stop the white horse and rider, or war from taking over. This way the 'flood' (In the dream I had the morning of Sept 11, 2001, God showed me the fenced in land was North America. High on the fence were two high water marks representing World War 1 and II. The third flood began that day and what is coming, presumably over the next 40 days will be a continuation of that flood.) will not cover everything and God is giving us a chance to prepare because we may only have 7 years of preparation before the major flood resumes.

I don't want to say anything because I am not a prophet. It hurts me to think of these things and saddens me because I don't know of anyone else that is saying this. So is it God? Why is it exactly 7 years ago on March 16th I began to shake? And why is it that God has indicated in the dream I will be healed between the 13th and 20th of March? And why is it that another dream this week shows all these events had reached a stage of completion by the end of March? And why is it that He said six years ago my life represented the church? And seven is a number of completion.

I've prayed so hard about this but know so little. In fact He said He will not share the exact event or events that will take place as it would be dangerous for me to know. Nor the time when this will start.

Instead He gives me the ending. Almost like knowing how it will turn out but having no idea how you'll end up there. I could understand if these things dragged out for years but it seems I only have a short time left. Maybe a day, maybe a week or a couple weeks. If this was just me and my family I might not say anything but this seems to be for the entire world. And yet God is saying its coming and there is nothing anyone can do to stop it. That despite appearances its intended for good in the long run.

Finally there is a certain burden I'm bearing with this. Part of me wants to scream from the highest mountain the next part of Gods judgement is coming.

The other part wants to find a burrow in the ground and hide out for the next two months. And the third part wants to let just a few people know. Now if this was just some small message for a church, an individual, business or government regular advice would apply. Make a call, write a letter or something. Instead my voice is gone, I have no way to fully communicate what I know, and God is saying, "Don't worry about it. Let it happen and let me work out the details."

But God knows I have to share something if only with one or two people. So I share it with you, with His permission, and leave it up to you if you want to let anyone know and help me pray. So if you know people who are in tune with God, really in tune, ask them to pray. Because as one person said in my dream this week, "This is the biggest act of God since history began." And my question is, "If it really is from God. Are we all sleeping?" God help me! And I mean that.
