

The Gunman in the church

March 19, 1998

Dream Narrations

Joel Akin

A gunman was walking around with a rifle and pistol. It was night and I was standing near the corner of a building. He pointed the gun at me as if to shoot. I half hid around the corner but he did not shoot. Instead he walked into a church. I followed at a discrete distance, but quickly. At times it felt like I was watching a silent movie.

The gunman seemed to desire a massacre. Suddenly the children of the church began to swarm all over the gunman. He tried to fire his weapons but was unable to and was totally powerless before the children.
